The Daily Courant.

Monday, February 1. 1714.

London, February 1.

On Saturday arrived the Mail due from Holland.

From the Amsterdam Gazette, dated Feb. 6.

Cologne, January 30.

TH O' Couriers frequently arrive at Rastad, from Vienna and from Versailles, the last Letters which we have received from Rastad do not make any mention yet of the Ratification of the Preliminaries which are agreed: They only tell us, that some Consternation had been observed there on the Arrival of the last Courier who came from the Court of France, and who 'twas said had passed by Bar le Duc, there to deliver some Dispatches to the Chevalier de St. George, who thereupon went away from Bar le Duc without its being known whither: Time will clear up this. In the mean while, many doubt the Ratification of the Court of France, tho' it be reported that the Articles agreed are more to the Advantage of that Crown than of the Emperour and Empire.

Cologne, Feb. 2. We have nothing this Post from Lorrain, concerning the Departure of the Chevalier de St. George, which the preceeding Letters had mentioned.

Hague, Feb. 2. We have Letters from Rastad of the 30th of January, which begin to draw us out of the Uncertainty we have so long been in about the Issue of the Conferences between Prince Eugene and the Marshal de Villars. They tell us, that the King of France being not at all satisfied with the last Project delivered by Prince Eugene, made several considerable Alterations in it, as well in the Article touching the Restoration of the two Electors, as in those relating to the Catalonians, and to the Affairs of Italy, especially so far as they concern the Duke of Savoy: So that having made a Counter-Project, he sent it to the Marshal de Villars with Order to break off the Conferences if Prince Eugene would not accept it as it is. As Prince Eugene had received before a like Order from the Emperour, in case the Project last sent to him as the Ultimatum should be rejected; 'tis no longer doubted the Conferences will soon be broken off, if they are not already. The Advices by the last Post from the Frontiers of Lorrain, confirm the Departure of the Chevalier de St. George from Bar le Duc; some say he is gone to Solothurn in Switzerland, and others that he may be gone to Luneville the Residence of the Duke of Lorrain, there to take the Diversion of Masquerading: The Carnival gives him the better Opportunity of keeping incognito, till he chuse to appear publicly. Baron Heems, the Emperour's Envoy, has received Order from his Court not to have Communication with any Minister of Savoy who may come hither, and not only to engage all the Ministers of the Empire here to observe the like Conduct, but to move the States General likewise not to acknowledge that Duke for King of Sicily. That Prince's Envoy at Ausbourg having been ordered by a Letter to notify to the Diet, and particularly to the College of Electors, the Coronation of his Master, the Deputies of the Electors would not receive that Letter, but referred the said Minister to address himself directly to their Principals.

London, February 1.

Yesterday arrived the Mail due from France.

Paris, Feb. 7. 'Tis advised from Madrid the 22d of last Month, that the Queen had received the holy Viaticum, and that from the 15th the blessed Sacrament had been exposed in the Chapel of the Palace, in the Cathedral Church, and in divers others, in which publick Prayers were made for her Majesty's Recovery, and she was growing better. Letters from Catalonia of the 16th relate, that the Marquis de Lede who commands in Tarragona being informed that an Insurrection was beginning at Villafranca de Pannudos towards Tortosa, immediately sent thither a Detachment of his Garrison, led by the Chevalier de Lede, and that Detachment was afterwards reinforced by some Troops from Valencia: They seized the Viguer and the other principal Officers of the Place, Authors of the Revolt, who are cast into Prison, and their Offices are given to Persons faithful to the King. The Duke de Popoli has caused the like to be done at Vich and other Places, where the People were likewise contriving an Insurrection, being influenced by some of the chief of the Rebels who were come to them from Barcelona. The Squadron which the contrary Winds had put back to the Coasts of Valencia, sailed again the 9th, and were speedily expected on the Coasts of Catalonia. Letters from Marseilles of the 25th of January say, that Squadron has landed 15000 Men on the Island of Majorca, under the Command of the Marquis de Valdecannas, and that it will be before Barcelona by the beginning of February at furthest. The Marquis de los Balbases, who was driven by Stress of Weather into Marseilles in his Voyage from Sicily to Genoa, reported, that soon after New Year's Day the King of Sicily will leave that Island to return to Turin, leaving the Queen his Consort Regent of the Kingdom during his Absence. 'Tis advised from Bar le Duc the 30th past, that the Chevalier de St. George's Journey to Venice is broke off, because of the bad Weather; and that he was to go to pass the Carnaval at Luneville with their Royal Highnesses of Lorrain who had invited him thither. Letters from Rastad of the 28th of last Month confirm, that the Difficulties which remained to be removed for concluding the Treaty of Peace, related to the Privileges of the Catalonians, those of the Transilvanians, and the Restoration of Prince Ragotski, about which there had been great Contests on both Sides. Mean while the Conferences were still continued, with hopes of a happy Issue; and 'tis rumoured here that the Marshal de Villars will return to Court in a few Days. M. du Casse did not set out till Saturday last, when he went Post, to take on him the Command of the Spanish Squadron.

Feet in his Hands and dances true time to the Musick on his Knees, with other Admirable Postures; and both Feet he puts into his Mouth, and turns round like a Top. Likewise a Person who takes an empty Bag, commands several Eggs out of it, and at last a
